

Organise a sponsored shave or wax

Ever thought about doing something outrageous and a little bit silly all in the name of charity? How about shaving your head, or men, waxing those legs?

Nothing catches the attention of others quite like the dramatics of both. Show your friends, family and work colleagues you mean business by shaving off those luscious locks or waxing off that body hair to raise money for Alzheimer's Society.

How to get started

It really is a very simple yet powerful fundraising event. All you have to do is make sure you have the hair to wax or shave and then tell everyone about it.

1. Create a JustGiving page - this is a great way to tell all your supporters about your event while easily and securely collecting sponsorship money.
2. Take lots of pictures! Before and after pictures to help show off your courage.
3. Enjoy your new found smoothness and be sure to moisturise!
