

Trusts

Alzheimer's Society is indebted to charitable trust and foundation supporters without whose generosity many important projects would not have been possible.

Opportunities for trusts and foundations

If you are a trustee or have links with a charitable trust, foundation or other voluntary funding body, and would like to make a difference to someone affected by dementia, please help us. Every donation we receive enables us to continue providing vital support and information to people with dementia, their carers and their families.

Keeping you informed

We like to keep our trusts and supporters up-to-date to make sure that they regularly receive relevant publications in relation to their support or their interests. From time to time the Society hosts social events for our major donors as a thank you for their support and to update them on our progress.
