

Old Jewellery Appeal

How your old jewellery can help people with dementia

If you have jewellery that is either broken or no longer wanted, Alzheimer's Society can put it to worthy use by recycling it to raise funds in our Old Jewellery Appeal.

Turn your unwanted jewellery into a precious gift

The Old Jewellery Appeal welcomes jewellery of any kind - whether it's an odd cufflink or earring, or a bracelet or necklace that you no longer wear. Every single item is gratefully received, and the money raised will be used to fund projects to continue Alzheimer's Society's work in leading the fight against dementia.

You can send your donation free of charge by ordering one of our free post donation jiffy bags.
