

Quiz Master

Fundraising top tips

Make it competitive. Make it matter.

Are you a board game lover or a pub quiz master?

Then why not join thousands of others by organising your own quiz event.

Whenever and however you'd like to host your event, we'll be with you at every move. Here are just a few ideas to get the ball rolling:

- quiz
- raffle
- board game party/club
- themed bingo
- trivia night
- murder mystery night.

From providing support and improving care, to funding crucial research, every penny you raise will help people affected by dementia.

Ways to raise money:

Sometimes it's hard to know where to start! Here are some ways to turn your quiz themed idea into vital money.

Raffle

Add a raffle alongside your cheese and wine night or work brunch to help boost your fundraising! Ask your guests to buy raffle tickets from you so they can try their luck at winning goodies donated by local businesses.

Costume contest

Why not add a theme to your quiz or raffle night to encourage even more people to get involved. Pick a fancy dress theme for the night and ask for an entry donation – the best dressed wins!

Games

For a small entry donation get your party guests giggling with some fun and games. Ask your friends and family to choose between heads and tails (hands on their head or hands on their bum) and flip a coin. Everyone who got it right can stand in for the next round!

Matched Giving

Lots of employers will match some or all of the sponsorship you raise. It's a great way to increase your fundraising so check with your manager or HR to see if your company takes part in a matched giving scheme.

There are endless ways to organise your quiz master. And we'll be right behind you every step of the way, providing plenty of help, support and ideas for you to host your event whenever and however suits you.

Where your money goes:

£50

could fund the equipment and resources needed for one day of a dementia researcher's vital investigations, helping to improve diagnosis, care and treatment for people affected by the condition.

£150

could pay for two people with dementia to attend Singing for the Brain® sessions for one year, where they and their carers can come together for an hour each week to sing and dance with music.
